

Institiúid Taighde na Gaeilge agus an Léinn Cheiltigh, Ollscoil Uladh

Léacht Phoiblí

Críostóir Mac Cárthaigh

Cnuasach Bhéaloideas Éireann, an Coláiste Ollscoile, Baile Átha Cliath

An tOsnádúr sa Seanchas i measc Phobail Iascaireachta Iarthar na hÉireann

15 Nollaig 2010, Dé Céadaoin
Campas Bhéal Feirste,
Léachtlan William Conor @ 4.30

Tugann Institiúid Taighde na Gaeilge agus an Léinn Cheiltigh, i gcomhar le tionscnamh taighde 'Scéalta na Farraige' atá á mhaoiniú ag Comhairle Thaighde na n-Daonnachtaí sa Bhreatain (AHRC), cuireadh duit freastal ar léacht phoiblí le Críostóir Mac Cárthaigh. Cuirfear tús leis an léacht ar 4.30, 15 Nollaig 2010. Tabharfar an léacht i Léachtlan William Conor, Ollscoil Uladh, Sráid Eabhac, Béal Feirste. Is saineolaí ar sheanchas na mara é an tUas. Mac Cárthaigh. Ba é an Príomh-Eagarthóir é ar an leabhar Ár mBáid Dúchais ('Traditional Boats of Ireland') a raibh 36 údar páirteach ann (Collins Press, Corcaigh, 2008).

Research Institute for Irish and Celtic Studies

Public lecture

Críostóir Mac Cárthaigh

National Folklore Collection, University College Dublin

The Supernatural in the Lore of the Fishing Communities of Western Ireland

15 December 2010, Wednesday
Belfast Campus,
William Conor Lecture Theatre @ 4.30 pm

The Research Institute for Irish and Celtic Studies, together with the AHRC-funded research project 'Stories of the Sea', invites you to a public lecture (in Irish) by Críostóir Mac Cárthaigh, Archivist, National Folklore Collection, Special Delargy Centre for Irish Folklore, University College Dublin. Críostóir Mac Cárthaigh is an expert in the field of sea-lore and maritime tradition. He was the Chief Editor of the 658 page book that contained contributions from 36 authors entitled Traditional Boats of Ireland - History, Folklore and Construction: Ár mBáid Dúchais, published by Collins Press, Cork, in 2008.